NEW LEADER THIS WEEK

Miss May Brightman of Mountain House Goes to Head of the Class

This week a great surprise was given us, when May Brightman of Mountain House turned in votes totaling up to 27,000 making in all 28,000. Now this is the first big jump that has been made and shows how easy it is to get subscriptions for the paper. This puts her well in the lead but this should not discourage the other candidates, several other good marks have been reached this week and the figures are getting up into numerous ciphers. Much interest is being taken in the contest and every day we receive enquiries either personal or by mail regarding it. The girls are beginning to work in earnest now and their gentleman friends are championing them.

Now, the first ballot in the paper was published on February 10th and the last ballot No 10 will be printed on April 14th. Up till Wednesday evening April 20th at 6 p.m. we will receive ballots and subscriptions, but after that time positively no subscriptions or ballots will be received, either personally or by mail. Now keep the date in mind and don't forget that the time grows shorter each week and the girl that works from now will be the one that wins the piano. Below is the standing to date.

CHAPTER XVII.

FRANCIS RALEIGH AND DOROTHY GILBERT'S DAUGHTER BECOME ACQUAINTED.

Mrs. Fulton was first to speak. "When you are through playing the piano, you can go on with your work," she said coldly.

Faith stooped and picked up the dusting cloth and then rose to her feet.

"I didn't hurt your piano." The words were on her lips, and her heart was hot within her. But she choked the words down, and without replying to Mrs. Fulton she started to go out. Even in her excited condition of mind she could not help noticing that the young man was gazing at her with great attention.

"It is not your place to touch the piano," continued Mrs. Fulton, who was angry. "You can leave it alone after this."

"Mother!" Alice spoke up in a tone of timid remonstrance. "There has been no harm done, has there? She plays better than I do. I never knew before how that march ought to sound."

"You're right about that," said the young man, in a big, hearty voice. "It was finely done, and I've heard it played by Sousa's band too."

Faith colored to her hair at the unexpected praise, while Mrs. Fulton shut the piano with a bang and looked extremely annoyed.

"You can finish your work here some other time," she said to Faith sharply.

Faith went out of the parlor without having said a word. She was glad when she reached the kitchen that she had controlled herself, but the effort not to say something in defense, to excuse her action, cost her a tremendous struggle. As she prepared the midday meal, she choked several times with a dry sob as she realized that she must not try to be anything but a hired girl while employed in that capacity.

"This isn't the work I ought to do," she said to herself again and again, "but I am doing the best I can. I wouldn't have touched the piano if I hadn't forgotten myself at the sight of the music. If I can get anything else to do, I won't stay here. But what can I do, unless I give up everything and go home? I won't do that until I have to."

Then she quieted her excitement by recalling the home circle. Her father's face came up before her, and she said: "I am selfish to mind such a thing. For fear father's sake!"

When she appeared at the table in answer to Mrs. Fulton's ring of the bell the first time, she showed no signs of temper, and served quietly and cheerfully. Mrs. Fulton looked at her sharply several times, but apparently found nothing in the girl's face to annoy her. The only embarrassing feature of the meal to Faith was the fact that several times she was conscious that the young man, Malcolm, was looking at her very directly. It was not a stare, but it embarrassed Faith somewhat. His face was honest and manly, but the look he often turned toward her was very searching.

She was relieved when the meal was over and she could clear things away. It was Thursday afternoon, and she very quickly put her kitchen to rights and, running up to her room, she put on hat and cloak and went out. She determined to have another look at the picture on State street if it were still there. And if it was gone a plan had suddenly come to her mind which she had resolved to try before going back to the Fultons.

She had been gone out of the house only a few minutes when a conversation occurred in the parlor which would have interested her intensely if she could have heard it.

The young man, Malcolm, had been ill at ease all through the lunchtime. When it was over, he had gone into the library, where he had asked leave to write a letter. He was evidently a business acquaintance of Mr. Fulton's, but the conversation at the table revealed the fact that he had not been in the Fulton home before.

He finished his letter and went into the parlor. Mrs. Fulton and Alice were there. The girl had not gone to school on account of not feeling well.

"I am sorry that Mr. Fulton did not come out this noon, Mr. Stanley," said Mrs. Fulton, who seemed anxious to please him. "I am sure he must have been unavoidably detained in the city. He telephoned out in the early part of the forenoon that he would try to meet you here. I know he wanted to see you before you go west."

"Yes, madam," replied Malcolm Stanley. He spoke respectfully, but one who knew him well would have said his tone lacked heartiness. He was evidently very much disturbed about something.

He walked to the window and looked out. Alice went over to the piano and opened it. She sat down and played a few bars of the march. Often when she was feeling miserable a little music would relieve her.

The sound of the piano roused Malcolm Stanley. He came back to the middle of the room, and, taking a seat near Mrs. Fulton, he said with some emphasis, as if he had been making up his mind to a course:

"Mrs. Fulton, where does your girl—the girl who waited on the table, who was playing the piano—where did she come from? What is her name?"

Mrs. Fulton looked surprised and also embarrassed.

"She is from Kansas, I believe she told me. Her name is Faith. What is the girl's last name, Alice? I never can remember it," she called to Alice.

Alice stopped playing and turned around on the piano stool.

"Kirk—Faith Kirk."

"Oh, yes. She's a peculiar girl in some ways, Mr. Stanley, as no doubt you noticed. It is not often that we housekeepers can furnish superior musicians to entertain guests," she added, with a short laugh, which showed that she still thought of the incident of Faith at the piano with great annoyance.

But Malcolm Stanley had risen, his whole expression betraying great excitement.

"If this girl's name is Kirk, Mrs. Fulton, and she is from Kansas, it is almost certain that she is the daughter of the man who was with my mother when she died in mid-noon, the man who held me in his arms, the man who has always been in my thought as one of the heroes of the world."

Mrs. Fulton rose, looking bewildered. She was familiar with Francis Raleigh's painting, but she had never thought of associating Faith with it.

"I must see her," said Malcolm Stanley. He spoke like one who has the right to command.

"I think she has gone out," said Mrs. Fulton. "Alice, will you go and see?"

Alice went out and soon came back, saying that Faith had gone. Malcolm Stanley paced the parlor in unusual agitation of manner.

"If this is the daughter of Malcolm Kirk," he said to himself. Then he turned to Mrs. Fulton and bowed formally.

"You will excuse me, madam, if I take my leave now. I am obliged to make some arrangements about the picture at Mr. Raleigh's this afternoon."

"When do you leave for the west?" Mrs. Fulton asked. She was annoyed at the events of the day.

"I had planned to go tomorrow. I expect to visit Mr. Kirk on my way to Denver. But I feel anxious to see Miss Kirk before I go. She certainly must be his daughter. A hired girl, as you call them, would not be likely to have such a musical education, and, besides, she has the look in her face of the portrait. It must be she."

"Yes," cried Alice, her pale face showing some color under the excitement of such a discovery in real life. "She certainly played the piano like one who has had the best of teachers. And, besides, you can see from her manner that she is refined and lady-like." Alice spoke with a glow of unselfish feeling, and Malcolm Stanley looked gratefully at her.

"I may come out with Mr. Fulton this evening," he said.

He bowed and went out, leaving Mrs. Fulton and Alice to talk over the matter, while he went down to Francis Raleigh's studio, determined every moment with increasing resolve to return and see Faith before the day was over.

Meanwhile Faith had gone directly to the familiar window on State street where the picture had been.

She knew before she reached the place that the picture was gone, because the usual crowd of people was not there. She stopped in front of the window, however, and read the address of the artist which was attached to a small scene of a foreign seaport. She hesitated a moment, and then resolutely went on to Randolph street, to the block where Raleigh's studio was.

His room was at the top of the building, and when she reached it she hesitated again before going in. When she finally opened the door, she drew back at the entrance, for the room appeared to be empty except for a large crayon and a few decorations. There was another room opening from the first, and after waiting a moment Faith went on to the door of that room.

A man was sitting there with his back to the entrance so absorbed in his work that he evidently had not heard her come in. But Faith was at once attracted by the sight of the familiar picture of the father which was on a great easel in front of the artist.

She came a few steps farther into the room, and still the artist did not look up, and it was only when Faith had advanced as far as the frame of the picture of her father that he turned his face and looked at her.

"I am Faith Kirk, and that is my father," said Faith, speaking directly at the man, and pointing to the portrait. "I've come on a rather peculiar errand, Mr. Raleigh, but you won't blame me for it, I am sure."

"Blame the daughter of Dorothy Gilbert," cried Francis Raleigh. His once heavy, black hair was streaked with gray, and he had grown noticeably old in many ways, but he was a handsome and well-preserved gentleman, and the old Italian manner sat on him with even more grace than when he was young.

He rose and bowed with an elegant politeness that brought the color to Faith's cheek, and for a moment they stood facing each other in silence. Then Raleigh brought a chair, and Faith sat down, while the artist looked at her with great and increasing interest.

"I suppose you have come to take me to task for painting this picture," he said. "It was in one sense a very bold thing for me to do. I think, however, your father will forgive me. I am sure he will when he knows all about my reasons for doing it." He spoke in a tone that made Faith feel somehow that the picture had had a real influence on the life of the artist, as indeed it had, and the telling of it at another time revealed the fact that Francis Raleigh had gone through an experience of moral struggle that had left him also victor in overcoming.

"I'm sure father would be pleased," said Faith, slowly. Then she paused, for suddenly one of her shy spells came over her and she did not know how to go on. For the first time she seemed to feel as if perhaps her errand would be considered unusual.

"What can I do for you?" said Raleigh. He spoke in a way that removed Faith's shyness at once. If it had not been for that she would have gone away without telling him what she had come for.

"I am Faith Kirk, and that is my father," said Faith.

"Of course," he continued, "I am wondering every minute how you happened to come in here, for your home is in Kansas, isn't it?" and "I—"

"Will you let me tell how I happened to be here?" said Faith, feeling more confident in her errand. "I shall have to tell it before you will understand why I have come."

"Yes, tell me your story," said Raleigh, smiling encouragingly. So Faith related her experience in the photographer's studio and her present place of work at the Fultons, where Francis Raleigh opened his eyes a little, but he continued to listen in sympathetic silence.

Overdoing the Salmon?

That the Pacific salmon industry is being overdone, was the opinion of Prof. J. P. McMurich in his lecture in the science building of Toronto University recently.

Each year the salmon production varied, and the amount of catch should be regulated accordingly by an international commission.

Big "runs" only came every four years. During the last big run in 1906, $3,000,000 worth of salmon was canned. The catches were diminishing. Canada was sending 26,000,000 pounds of salmon to Great Britain yearly; to Australia 2,000,000 pounds, and to the eastern provinces 7,000,000 pounds.

Since the great bulk of Pacific salmon went to Great Britain and Australia, it was not a local question, but an imperial issue, and, as the conditions were different each year, the Empire should see to regulating each year's catch.

Two Years Sickness in the Average Life

Much of This is Avoided When the Blood is Kept Rich with DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

It is said that the average man or woman who reaches seventy years of age has had two years of sickness or ten days for each year.

To-day medical experts are studying how to avoid this and the general opinion seems to be that every effort should be used to keep the blood rich, red and healthy by using such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

There are always plenty of indications to warn you when the blood is getting weak and watery and the nerves exhausted.

You are easily tired, both mentally and bodily, you feel down-hearted and discouraged, digestion fails you, you have headaches and become irritable and easily annoyed.

In this condition you easily contract colds, pneumonia or fever of some kind and are not able to throw them off as you would if the blood were rich and the body in vigorous health.

Never judge people by their aims; it's what they hit that counts.

The food you eat does not build you up and it is therefore necessary for you to look to such a preparation as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood.

Mrs. S. Story, 19 Maitland Street, Halifax, N. S., states: "My whole nervous system was run down, I was troubled with wakefulness during the night and frequently suffered with neuralgic pains in my head. Nothing that I took seemed to be of much benefit to me until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and under this treatment my health at once began to improve. By continuing the use of the Nerve Food I gradually grew stronger until at the present time I can now say that I am quite well again. I now enjoy refreshing sleep and the pains in my head have entirely disappeared."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proven an enormous benefit, because of its power to form new, rich, red blood and thereby to overcome weakness and disease. 50 cts. a box, all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

New Health and Strength for Weak and Ailing Girls

Can Be Had Through the Rich, Red Blood Made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

There comes a time in the life of almost every girl when sickness attacks her. The strain upon her blood supply is too great, and there comes headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, attacks of dizziness and heart palpitation, and a general tendency to a decline. The only thing that can promptly and speedily cure these troubles is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This is the only medicine that actually makes new, rich, red blood, and a plentiful supply of rich blood is the one thing needed to maintain the health of growing girls and women of mature years. The truth of this statement is proved in the case of Miss Esther E. Sproule, Truemanville, N.S., who says, "At the age of sixteen years, I left my country home to attend high school. The close confinement and long hours of study nearly broke me down. My blood supply seemed to be deficient, and I grew pale and depressed. I was dizzy nearly all the time, and pimples broke out on my face. I was altogether in a miserable condition and it seemed impossible for me to continue my studies unless I found a speedy cure. I tried several tonics prescribed by the doctor, but they proved useless. My mother urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I finally consented to do so. I had hardly finished the second box before a change for the better took place, and the use of a few boxes more fully restored my health, and I have since been well and strong. I feel that I cannot say too much in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I strongly recommend them to other ailing girls."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

PROOF THAT NO ONE CAN DOUBT

THAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ALWAYS CURE RHEUMATISM

Conclusive Evidence Given by Durham Brown, of Brantford, Ont.—How and Why the Cure is Effected.

Brantford, Ont. (Special).—That Rheumatism is caused by diseased Kidneys and that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure both the sick Kidneys and the Rheumatism is again proved in the case of Mr. Durham Brown, of No. 2 Spring Street, this city.

"I was troubled with Backache and other well-known symptoms of Kidney Disease," Mr. Brown states. "I also suffered from Rheumatism in my right side and hip to the extent that I was always while at my work in agonizing pain."

"After taking one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I found an improvement and after taking six boxes I found both my Kidney Disease and Rheumatism entirely cured."

Mr. Brown is only one of many cases in which it has been proved beyond a doubt that the natural way to cure Rheumatism is to remove the uric acid in the blood which crystallizes at the muscles and joints. Well Kidneys strain the uric acid out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills make well Kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure Rheumatism.

The self-made man beats nine tailors out of a job.

DR. MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS

owe their singular effectiveness in curing Rheumatism, Lumbago and sciatica to their power of stimulating and strengthening the kidneys. They enable these organs to thoroughly filter from the blood the uric acid, the product of waste matter which gets into the joints and muscles and causes these painful diseases. Over half a century of constant use has proved conclusively that Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills strengthen weak kidneys and

Time He Was Dead

Some time ago an office boy, answering the telephone for the first time in his life, and not knowing how to use it, was told that when the bell rang he was to answer it. When, therefore, he heard it ring he picked up the receiver and shouted: "Hallo! Who's there?" The answer came back, "I'm one hundred and five." "Go on," said the boy; "it's time you were dead."

Wife—"I say, do you know that the girl in the flat above us won a piano at the charity bazaar lottery yesterday?"

Husband—"A piano? Great Scott! And that's what they call a charity bazaar!"—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Bird Dealer—"Well, madam, it's a very young bird. It'll learn to swear better when it's a bit older."—Human Life.

It Bids Pain Begone.—When neuralgia racks the nerves or lumbago cripples the back is the time to test the virtues of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Well rubbed in it will still the pain and produce a sensation of ease and rest. There is nothing like it as a liniment for its curative properties. A trial of it will establish faith in it.

"You took me for better or for worse," cried Henry Peck. "Oh, no, my dear," replied Mrs. Peck, sweetly. "You took me for better, and I took you for worse."

Minard's Liniment Cures Burns, Etc.

A little boy was given too much underdone pie for his supper, and was soon roaring lustily.

His mother's visitor was visibly disturbed.

"If he was my child," she said, "he'd get a sound spanking."

"He deserves it," the mother admitted, "but I don't believe in spanking him on a full stomach."

"Neither do I," said the visitor, "but I'd turn him over."

Did Need Sympathy

A couple of old salts met after a long absence, and the following animated conversation ensued:

"Well, old man, how are you getting on?"

"First rate! I have taken a wife."

"A very sensible idea."

"Not a bit of it; she's a regular Tartar."

"Then I'm sorry for you, mate."

"There's no need; she brought me a large vessel as her marriage portion."

"Then you made a good bargain, after all?"

"Nothing to boast of, I can tell you. The ship turned out a worthless old tinder-box."

"Then I'm sorry I spoke."

"Bah! You can speak as much as you like. The old tub was well insured and went down on her first voyage."

"So you got the pull there, anyhow."

"Not so much, mate; I only gave five hundred pounds out of the job as my share."

"That was too bad."

"Too bad? Nothing of the sort! Wife was on board and went down with the rest."

TRIED REMEDY FOR THE GRIP.

GIVE AWAY MILLIONS

ROCKEFELLER WILL DIVIDE WEALTH WITH PEOPLE

A World-Wide Scheme of Philanthropy is Worked Out by the Standard Oil Magnate—Millions are to be Lavished for the Betterment of Mankind—Most Gigantic Scheme ever Conceived by the Human Mind.

Washington, D. C.—A world-wide scheme of philanthropy—stupendous in its scope—in which the Rockefeller millions are to be lavished, for the betterment of mankind, is forecasted in the bill introduced in the senate by Mr. Gallinger, of New Hampshire, providing for the incorporation of the "Rockefeller foundation."

Details as to the exact plans of Mr. Rockefeller are lacking here, aside from the dry phraseology itself all that is known of the plan is gleaned from the statements made by Mr. Gallinger, after he had presented the bill. "I am not authorized, said he, to speak for Mr. Rockefeller, but there is no doubt that he proposes to spend his millions. He has already spent $52,000,000 through the general education board. I have no doubt that Mr. Rockefeller intends to give away his money on a scale greater than any other living man. I am not acquainted with all of the details of Mr. Rockefeller's plans."

The proposed act gives the foundation general powers of the widest possible character, within the purposes for which it was created, and the senators expressed the belief that it would become the most gigantic and philanthropic scheme ever conceived by the human mind.

All the rights and powers that are usually conferred on corporations are given the foundation in the Gallinger bill. In fact, it was pointed out that by the addition of a very few words, the bill, as it was written, might well stand as a charter for what really would be a "good trust" in the best meaning of the term.

Mr. Rockefeller has determined on dividing his fortune into three great funds. The first and largest is to be for charity, and this will be administered by the Rockefeller Foundation. It will include the work of endowing and maintaining other charities already organized, as well as the foundation of new ones. The second is to be the general education fund, which is to be increased from $53,000,000 to approximately over $100,000,000, and will still further extend the work of the general education board, as already organized. The third and smallest fund is to be set aside for the Rockefeller family.

It has been estimated that if Mr. Rockefeller lives to the age of 80, and he is now in his 71st year, his fortune would amount to one billion more than ever one man possessed before. It may be Mr. Rockefeller's idea to encourage the growth of his fortune up to the time of his death, starting the work of the Rockefeller Foundation during his lifetime and willing to it his great fortune.

SLIDES IN MOUNTAINS

TERRIBLE CATASTROPHE AT ROGERS PASS ON C.P.R.

A Series of Snow Slides Along Main Line of the Canadian Pacific Railway Cause Appalling Loss of Life—Over 1,200 Feet of Snow Sheds are Wiped Out—Bodies of Dead Will Likely all be Recovered.

Rogers Pass, B.C.—A mass of wet snow, tearing down the mountain side, swept between 63 and 80 men to death on Saturday morning, shortly after midnight and caused perhaps the worst railway wreck in the history of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The railway men know that there are 63 men lying beneath the snow and debris, for they are railway men. It is known that there are others in the mass, but the number is unknown. Of the men, 32 are Japanese.

This is the season for snow slides, and before sunset Friday a tremendous slide covered the track. Extra gangs were immediately placed on the road to clear the track, and had worked until 1 a.m. Then, without warning, the second slide, more massive than any before, swept down with terrific force and blotted out the men in a twinkling, under 50 feet of snow filling the cut completely.

The combined crews consisted of 100 men, but of these 63 were at work with two engines and a rotary, clearing the track. Some distance behind, the remaining men were asleep in the cars and were resting for their turn on the work. The slide wiped the forward gang completely out of existence, only one man, John Morton, being saved, and he is so badly bruised that he has not recovered consciousness and can give no account of the disaster.

The slide, as is always the case, started small and spread out like a fan as it swept down the mountain side. The extent of this slide was immense, and the outer edges of the fan smashed against the cars with the sleeping men, moving the cars, though causing no injury.

It was some little time before the terrible accident was reported, as the telegraph wires went down under the snow, ice and debris. As soon as word was sent out, relief cars were rushed to the scene of the disaster.

On Saturday the work of recovering the bodies was carried on vigorously, with the result that eleven, all dead, were taken out.

The following are the white men who are known to have perished: R. J. Buckley, conductor; W. Phillips, engineer; J. J. Fraser, roadmaster; Griffith, fireman; A. Pottruff, engineer; A. Johnson, foreman; C. Anderson, foreman; E. Wellander, foreman; D. J. McDonald, bridge foreman; Mahon, brakeman; G. Nichols, bridge man; J. McLelland, bridge man.

Shortly after the slide which caused the heavy loss of life, another occurred between Bear Creek and Rogers Pass, which carried down 600 feet of snow shed No. 14, making in all some 1230 feet of snow shed wiped out.

The next heavy slide occurred at 2.30 on Saturday afternoon at the big hill at Field. This carried down the track on one of the upper loops, rebounded down the valley and carried out another portion of the track below. Fortunately there was no loss of life, there being no train in the vicinity.

A third slide occurred at Glenogle, eight miles east of Golden, B.C. This cleared out another large portion of the track, but the line was clear at the time and there were not fatal results.

All bodies will be recovered from the Rogers Pass slide, as they were not carried down the valley, but caught in a heavy cut. The rotary plow, the engine and several boarding cars are buried completely under masses of ice, rock and timber, along with the men who perished.

PRODUCE OF MINES

Figures for Dominion Show an Increase of Five Million Dollars for the Past Year.

Ottawa.—The total value of the mineral production of Canada during 1909 was a little over $90,000,000, an increase of nearly $5,000,000, as compared with the preceding year. Nearly all metals show an increase in output, according to a preliminary estimate contained in a report issued recently by the mines department. The total production of silver during the year is estimated at 7,878,500 ounces, valued at $14,368,310, of which nearly $13,000,000 is credited to the Cobalt mines. There was a slight decrease in the gold production, which totalled about $9,500,000. The Yukon gold output last year is estimated at $3,960,000, an increase of $360,000 over 1908.

The total production of nickel from the Sudbury deposits was 28,845 tons valued at the furnaces at $3,913,020. An increase of 20 per cent. is shown in the production of pig iron in Canada last year as compared with 1908. The total production was 757,162 tons, valued at $9,581,864, as compared with 630,835 tons valued at $8,112,194 in 1908. Coal and coke were produced to the extent of 10,411,955 tons, valued at $24,431,351, a somewhat smaller production than in 1908 owing to the labor troubles at the Nova Scotia mines.

Grainmen Pleased

Moose Jaw.—"We, the directors of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association are pleased to note the government have invited Langley and F. W. Green to serve on the elevator commission and we unanimously and sincerely hope that they will accept the position moved by F. C. Tate, seconded by G. Boerma."

The above resolution was passed unanimously by the directors of the Grain Growers' association at a meeting held here recently. The proceedings passed harmoniously. President Gates gave a statement after the meeting in which he said the air was clear and the directors were all satisfied.

Correspondence that had passed between Premier Scott and F. W. Green explaining the reason why the government decided to have three members instead of five was read and considered satisfactory. "The unanimous opinion of the directors," said Gates, "was that the government are sincere and earnest in their desire to co-operate with farmers to bring about a satisfactory settlement of the elevator problem. Langley and Green, in view of the resolution, will accept government appointments."

Brings Up Earl Grey's Calgary Speech

London.—Joseph Martin wished to place another question on the order paper in reference to Earl Grey's Calgary speech on the naval policy, pointing out in reference to the allegation in reply to Martin's last question that Earl Grey had been incorrectly reported, no shorthand reporters being present, that a verbatim report of Earl Grey's remarks at Regina had appeared in the Times of Oct. 6.

Martin's question urged that these speeches had been vigorously condemned by the press of Canada as unjustifiable interference with Canadian politics, and that the Conservative party was now bitterly opposing the policy of creating a Canadian navy, recommended by Grey, and Martin asked what course was to be pursued under the circumstances. The speaker advised Martin to bring up the question on a vote for the colonial secretary's salary, which he will do.

Peary Declines to Publish Proofs

Washington, D.C.—The sub-committee on naval affairs heard witness of Commander Peary's proposed award. Representative Macon objected to receiving Peary's report without making it public and this the representative of the commander refused, as he was anxious to first publish them in book and magazine form. Some members of the committee objected to rewarding Peary without giving the public proof that he deserves the award.

Purchase Mountain Summit

Nelson, B.C.—Calgary capitalists have purchased the summit of G at mountain at Creston for a game preserve, an area of 1,200 acres, including lakes and streams. A game warden will be placed in charge and the park fenced and stocked with game. Calgary men will build residences at the foot of the mountain and will live there with their families during a part of the year.

Abandons Alaskan Expedition

London.—Owing to the pressure of other work, Sir Ernest Shackleton, the Antarctic explorer, has abandoned his proposed scientific expedition to Alaska. This was to have followed his lecture tour of the United States and Canada. Shackleton and his wife will sail for America on March 19.

Killing Off the Dogs

Hamilton.—The death of young John Taylor from rabies has been followed by the killing of over 100 dogs here. Sixty were killed at the pounds. Three doctors who viewed the boy's sufferings went home and put an end to their pet dogs. One prominent citizen slaughtered a two hundred dollar dog.

Examining Leaning Tower

Pisa, Italy.—A committee of scientists is investigating the stability of the leaning tower, from the foundation of which water has been springing for a long time. This has resulted, it is feared, in weakening the understructure of the historic tower.

RAILWAY BILLS REPORTED AT OTTAWA SESSION

Railway Committee Reports on Bill to Incorporate Nelson River Railway—Water Rights Restricted—Bill Authorizes Prince Albert and Hudson's Bay Railway to Construct Lines from Prince Albert to Calgary

Ottawa.—The railway committee finally reported a bill to incorporate the Nelson river railway, several clauses of which were held over when the bill was last before the committee at the request of Hon. Clifford Sifton, chairman of the commission on conservation. Chairman Guthrie read a letter from Mr. Sifton in which it was said that the commission does not consider that the company would have any rights to the waters of the Saskatchewan and Nelson rivers. The company would have to secure its power rights from the interior department. Mr. Sifton suggested a number of amendments to safeguard the water powers. The clause authorizing the construction of tramways was stricken out and the bill was finally adopted.

Dr. Neeley's bill respecting Prince Albert and Hudson Bay Co., which authorizes the company to construct branch lines from Prince Albert to Calgary and from that point on its authorized line to McEwen on the Canadian Northern was reported.

Dr. Martin's bill to incorporate the Saskatchewan Central Railway Co. was reported. Mr. Martin explained that the company has a provincial charter but now desire a federal authority to enter unorganized territories and Alberta. It is proposed to build to Edmonton via Rosthern and Battleford and to the Pas Mission. Other lines are also proposed.

Mr. Connery's bill to incorporate the Rainy River Radial Co. which was held over at a previous meeting, was held over. Objection was taken to a clause allowing the company to develop the water power on Long Sault rapids, Rainy river, and the bill went over.

Monument for Alberta Heroes

Calgary.—A joint meeting of the Canadian and Veterans' association was held recently, to discuss the plans for the erection of a monument to the memory of Alberta men who fought for their country in the Boer war. Mayor Jamieson occupied the chair, while A. E. Harrison filled the duties of secretary. The following were present: Messrs. Stanley Jones, W. A. Lowrey, Dr. Donaldson, Dean Paget, and H. M. Solane.

Dean Paget stated that he had written to several Canadian sculptors and exhibited a group of photographs of many Canadian monuments now in existence. These were examined carefully and it was decided to have the monument of the equestrian class, the secretary being instructed to write to Messrs. W. S. Alward, Toronto; Philip Hibert, Montreal; Hamilton McCarthy, Ottawa, and G. W. Hilt, Montreal, all Canadian sculptors, and ask them to submit plans for a monument of this class to cost, exclusive of base, from $15,000 to $25,000.

Advertising Does It

London.—Sir G. Reid, Australia's new high commissioner, interviewed, said there is only one reason why Canada is so far ahead of Australia in immigration, namely, by advertisement. "We hope to change all that, though we hope too there will never be any unfriendly rivalry," he said.

MORE SETTLERS

Government Expects Hundred Thousand and Immigrants to Arrive From United States During Year.

Ottawa.—The influx of settlers into the Canadian west this year promises to greatly surpass all previous records. Reports received by the immigration department indicate that the arrivals from the American states, particularly from the northwest, will exceed the one hundred thousand mark.

During the first month of this year there has been an increase of over 100 per cent. increase on the homesteads taken up. The total number of entries for January was 2,698, as compared with 1,308 in January of last year, an increase of 1,390. Americans lead with 913 homestead entries and there were in addition 43 returning Canadians from U.S. The entries by Canadians totalled 661. English immigrants took 331 homesteads, Scotch 97, and Irish 29. The remaining 413 homesteads taken up during the month were by people from other European countries.

Will Bring Back First Locomotive

Winnipeg.—The question of bringing back to Winnipeg the first locomotive ever seen here, is now practically settled and the old engine that first came to Winnipeg in 1876 and was taken over the Red river to the western prairies in December, 1870, will soon be given a resting place in one of the city parks and become an interesting relic on exhibition.

This old engine, known as No. 1, with a train of six cars and a caboose, was brought to Winnipeg in June, 1876, and for some time was used on the Emerson branch. It was brought from Moorehead, Minn., and unloaded at the mouth of the Seine river. After serving its turn on the Emerson branch it was, in 1879, taken across the Red river at the point where Louise bridge now stands. The engine and train crossed the Red river on a track laid on the ice by D. D. Mann, then a railway contractor.

The old locomotive was soon displaced by modern engines and wound up its career in a lumber plant at Golden, B.C., which is under the control of Mackenzie & Mann.

Canadian Women Outlive the Men

Ottawa.—In the senate the bill amending the annuities act was given a third reading. Senator Frost moved that the bill be amended by reducing the rates charged for annuities to women to the same rates as those charged to men. In this age when women were working beside men at perhaps less remuneration, there hardly seemed justification for the application of British longevity to Canadian conditions and that higher rates be charged women than to men. He thought the protest of the Women's Council of Canada was well founded, and that his amendment should be adopted.

Sir Richard Cartwright said that, though desirous of granting the motion, it was beyond his power, as the result of the motion would add to the financial burden of the country. Such legislation could not originate in the senate. However, statistics were all against them and indicated that women lived longer than men. The ladies therefore could take consolation from the fact that if they pay a little more they would get a little more through living a little longer. Senator Frost withdrew his amendment and the bill passed.

Cost of Living Increases 40 Per Cent.

Washington, D.C.—Senator Latimer, chairman of the select committee appointed to investigate the increased cost of living, presented some interesting data in reference to the same subject in Canada.

In response to his request, he received from John G. Foster, United States consul-general in Canada, advance proof sheets of a report of an investigation by the Canadian department of labor. It shows that in the last ten years rents had advanced about 40 per cent. in the principal cities of Canada, and there had been a corresponding increase in food stuffs.

Canada Ever Ready to Assist Empire

London.—J. M. Clarke, of Toronto, addressing the British Empire league, said the differences regarding the question of defence in Canada were only as to the methods. As to the carrying out of their determination to take a fair share of the defence of the empire no anxiety need be felt, because in case of need any assistance that Canada could give would be available. That feeling was particularly strong in the northwestern provinces where large numbers of settlers from the United States are located.

Homestead Entries in the West

Ottawa.—During the month of January 2,698 homesteads were entered for the Canadian west, as compared with 1,308 for the same month last year. The Canadians entered for 661; Canadians from the United States, 43; Americans, 935; English, 331; Scotch, 97; Irish 29; and 419 by people from eleven other countries.

Emigration to Canada

London.—Lord Mount Stephen confirmed the report that he had donated $300,000 for emigration of Barnardo children. It is estimated that the income therefrom will be $15,000. This will enable the Barnardo home to send out 300 more children yearly.

Accepts Invitation

London.—Sir J. Hare has accepted Earl Grey's invitation to judge the dramatic competition performances at Toronto, April 4. Lady Hare will accompany him.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON XI.—FIRST QUARTER, FOR MARCH 13, 1910.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. viii, 23-34. Memory Verses, 24-26—Golden Text, Matt. viii, 27—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Such marvelous power over the human body would lead many to desire to be with Him. But He must have a tried people, followers who are prepared to deny self in every form, willing to renounce earthly comforts and even to hold the dearest earthly relatives in a secondary place (verses 18-22, with x, 37-39; xvi, 24, 25). Oh, it means so much to be a whole hearted follower of Jesus! When we consider the cost of power in His name it is not to be wondered at that there is so little of it manifest, for few are willing to take the place of such utter self renunciation. The cost is too great.

Having given commandment to cross the sea, He entered into a ship with His disciples (18, 23). He would escape from the multitudes for a little season. He was weary, for His body was mortal, like ours, but without sin. As they sailed he fell asleep, and, although there came a great tempest, threatening to swamp their boat, He continued to sleep. How weary in body He must have been! How peaceful in the midst of a great storm! The disciples were filled with fear and awoke Him with the question, "Master, carest Thou not that we perish?" I wonder if they had a thought of the possibility of His perishing, too, for they did not seem to know Him very well as yet. He arose and rebuked the winds and the sea. Mark says that He said unto the sea, "Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm." Then they marveled at Him, saying, "What manner of man is this that even the winds and the sea obey Him?" Their question reminds us of David's question when the Lord told him of His son, who would reign forever, "Is this the manner of man, O Lord God?" (11 Sam. vii, 19). His stilling the tempest reminds us of Ps. cvii, 29, "He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still."

It is the same person of whom we read in each case. His goings forth have been from everlasting (Mic. v, 2). It was His word which created all things and later brought order and beauty and fruitfulness out of a chaos, as in the record of Gen. i. Oh, for such an acquaintance with Him as would manifest something of His power in us that others might want to know Him too! There is never a storm that His word cannot displace by a great calm. "See that ye be not troubled." "My peace I give unto you." "Be still and know that I am God." Note in verse 26 His "O ye of little faith," and compare the other three times when He said the same words (vi, 30; xiv, 31; xvi, 8). Contrast His commendation of "great faith" in viii, 35, 38, 39). The man went his "without faith it is impossible to please God" (Heb. xi, 6). Having crossed over, He is met by two demon possessed men who had their dwelling among the tombs, men whom no one could tame nor bind, for though they had oft been bound, no chains could hold them. They were so exceedingly fierce that no one could pass by where they were. That word fierce is used in II Tim. iii, 1, and is translated "perilous" and is applied to the times in which we are living, the last days. With the combines in commerce, the conflict between labor and capital, the delusions in the pulpit and out of it, the times are certainly demon possessed, but the consummation will not be till the church is taken away and the devil shall manifest great wrath, knowing that his time is short (Rev. xii, 12). These demons knew Jesus and knew that there was torment awaiting them and that Jesus had power to send them to their place, so they besought Him that He would not send them to the abyss or bottomless pit (Luke viii, 31, R. V.), but that He would suffer them to enter into a herd of swine some distance away. Having received permission, they enter into the swine, and the whole herd run into the sea and perish. This loss of property and manifestation of His power so stirred the Gadarenes that they besought Him to leave their coast, and He did so.

The man who was healed is found sitting at the feet of Jesus clothed and in his right mind and desiring to abide with Jesus. But his request is not granted, for he is told to return to his own house and show how great things God had done for him (Luke viii, 35, 38, 39). The man went his way and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him. Even the keepers of the swine seemed to have no difficulty in telling their story about the loss of their property. But where do you find people now in the ordinary walks of life who have any thing to tell about Him who has power to cast out demons, cleanse lepers, heal sicknesses, save from the power of sin and fill with a joy and peace which are not of this world? How much of the power of the age to come is seen in every day life about us? Let your own heart tell, dear fellow believers, if this Jesus is so much to you that you are full of overflowing with a desire to talk of Him and of His wondrous salvation and to let Him live His life in you—not a world conformed life, but another world's life, manifesting Jesus and not self.

TROCHU.

G. T. P. Surveyors completed their work in the Trochu district this week on the final survey line to Calgary and have moved their camp to Three Hills. The prospects for having a station at Trochu were never better.

The people of Trochu will have cause to regret the departure of Geo Fortune from their midst. Mr Fortune was the chief butter maker at the Trochu creamery for some time and is well known throughout the Trochu district.

Mr de Reinach-Werth proprietor of the Trochu Creamery has secured the services of R H Slipp a first class and experienced butter maker from Calgary. Mr Slipp arrived in Trochu last week and has already assumed his duties at the creamery. Mr de Reinach Werth anticipates a big business during the coming summer. Last year the creamery turned out over 110,000 lbs of butter. A big increase is fully expected this year and Trochu may easily rank second among the Alberta Creameries.

Mrs Elmer Simpson of Three Hills had the misfortune to fall and break her leg whilst walking on some ice.

Conrad Weis returned to Trochu this week from a visit to Iowa. Mr Weis reports that they have experienced a very cold winter in Iowa this year. Prices for produce he said are high there at present owing to the poor crops of last year.

Mrs Cloakey was taken seriously ill last week and medical aid had to be called in. We understand that Mrs Cloakey's condition is improving.

The many friends of Mrs Charles Logan of fine View Ranch will be pleased to hear that, by a letter received last week, she has greatly improved in health by her visit to the old country and is expected soon to return to Sunny Alberta. We are very pleased to hear that, as she has been greatly missed since she left and out on the prairie here one can't afford to lose a neighbor, especially a good one.

C O Ross was unfortunate enough to lose a valuable horse this week.

Alex Halkett has started an enterprising News Agency at the P O and is handling all the best Canadian newspapers and journals. This only complaint is that the "Trochu Times" does not yet appear on his long list.

Happy to hear that the Sheridans have orders for the drilling of a few wells if only the "weather clerk" would change his "Tactics" for sometimes to let them get to work.

Mr Burns who arrived in Trochu this week with his family from the East, will open a lumber yard in Trochu right away and build a residence in the village for his family. Mr Burns also intends to farm on a fair scale, having purchased an excellent half section a few miles from Trochu in the Ghost Pine flat.

Lone Pine

The friends and neighbors of Mr and Mrs A D Platt met and surprised them at their home on Wednesday evening March 9th in honor of their twelfth anniversary. Mr and Mrs Platt were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. The evening was enjoyably spent in playing games. Those present were; Mr and Mrs G. Dehl, Mr and Mrs J. Johnson, Mr and Mrs H B Hengstler, Mr and Mrs John Turnbull, Mr and Mrs H McNaughton, Mr and Mrs G Hess, Mr and Mrs A Weston, Mr M Hutchison, Miss E. Lee, Mr H Burgess, Mrs Mary Hutchison and Miss O Hess. Mr and Mrs Platt are highly esteemed and all join in wishing them many happy returns of the day.

Another enjoyable evening was spent at the Bell home on Thursday March 10th when the friends of Miss Maggie Bell gathered for a farewell party. Miss Bell is soon leaving with her parents for their homestead 40 miles west. Miss Bell was presented with a gold pearl set brooch from her Lone Pine friends, and a gold locket and chain from her Bowden friends. We are sorry to lose the Bell family but wish them every success in their new home.

Clarence Fentie rode up from Calgary on Thursday and returned on Saturday. Geo Hess assisting him with his horses.

V E Sheffield went to Calgary on Friday with his little daughter Hazel whom he took to consult a specialist there.

Norman Andrews expects to leave on Monday for Montana.

Mr and Mrs R Hutchison returned from Trochu on Thursday.
